Referring Office Satisfaction Survey

Referrals – we say that they are the ones who “butter our bread” and that our relationship with them is critical to our practice’s growth. However, do we know how doctors and their office staffs really perceive us? When was the last time that you made a point to not only let your referrals know that you care about what they think, but also provided them with an opportunity to tell you?

MaxSurge Healthcare Solutions understands the importance of doctors knowing and caring what referring doctors think of them. MaxSurge provides a customized, independent survey (up to 50 of your specific referrals) on your behalf (additional surveys may be purchased upon request). Easy to complete with focus on the most critical topics, we invite honest input from your referring doctors on the self-addressed, stamped surveys. The returned data is compiled and reviewed by our consulting team, summarized for your review and accompanied by recommendations for greater growth and improvement. A six month follow-up survey is conducted to give your referrals an opportunity to comment again.

The professionals at MaxSurge will do all work for you and pay postage for the first and second mailings and returned surveys postage. Give your referring offices the opportunity to tell you what’s on their mind?
